

The Communications Rebel
Manifesto

You are a
Communications Rebel.

Your rebellion is deeply rooted in self-love and compassion for those you serve. Everything you do, you do wholeheartedly. You don't make compromises with yourself.

Replace reasonable with visionary. Embrace risk-taking. Trust your intuition. Listen to your heart. Take your dreams seriously.

Your words are reflections of your soul. Look inside for who you want to be, and then focus on being just that. Let your inside affect your outside and not the other way round.

Take good care of yourself and caress your emotions. Nurture your soul to bring alive your true voice. Meditate daily. Be mindful. Be happy.

You don't attack problems; you turn to your tribe and ask for help solving them. You are your own biggest fan! Think again, you're capable of so much more. Root for your success.

Enjoy the journey. Grant yourself permission to change and grow on the way. Make the road less travelled your everyday path.

You know yourself best. Listen to that inner voice. Become best friends with it! Then let it run free. Share it with your community. Share it with the world. Don't apologize for it.

The world needs your true voice.

Be a communications rebel!
Use your voice to do good.
